CANAL POINT SCHOOL

About fifteen of the Canal Point school pupils went in to the dental clinic Tuesday, to have their teeth gone over by the Rivas dentist. Mr. Shaver and Mr. Rodgers took these pupils to West Palm Beach for the clinic. He heartily thanked these two gentlemen for their kind favor. It means so much to have people who can help take these children in to town. The parents highly appreciate the service which the clinic gives. We are very fortunate in having such an active club in the vicinity.

These clinics are arranged by our county nurse, Elizabeth Howell, who works untiringly in the interest of the health of the children.

PRINCE THEATRE

Will Rogers Soon To Be Seen In
"Down To Earth"

Will Rogers' newest comedy, "Down To Earth," comes to the Prince Theatre next Saturday night. It is said to focus all the brilliance that has made him the keenest and most quoted observer in the country today. While in a sense the picture is a continuation of Rogers' first talkie, "They Had To See Paris," its theme and locale are completely different.

The story opens with Rogers as "Pike Peters," the Oklahoma millionaire, back home against his family after their Paris jaunt. His father is greatly worried, but his wife has an insatiable desire for social honors and his son aids her in extravagant spending. The failure of a bank forces Peters to apply for a loan local, and that failing as a result of Mrs. Peters' love of elegance and display, he goes to Chicago with the same result. How he gets his family down to earth again forms the basis of the situation.

"Down To Earth" is called the most important picture of Rogers' career. It is written and directed by "They Had To See Paris," Homer Croy, specially to fit the star's talents.

Ernest Rich As Wife

Ernest Rich, who appeared as Rogers' wife in his first two talking pictures, again portrays the socially ambitious spouse who brings about most of his hilarious trouble. Matty Kemp, whose work on the first few days of the production won him a long-term contract, enacts the role of the responsible son, and Dorothy Jordan that of the boy's childhood sweetheart who steps aside in favor of her wealthy rival.

Theodore Lott, the Grand Duke "Mike" of the earlier picture, returns to the role in this new film and Mary Carlisle plays the part of the spoiled "dub" who sets her foot on the King of the Klondike. Wilson Brandon Hurns, Louise Mackintosh and other noted character players are in the supporting cast. Edwin Burke wrote the screen play and dialogue from Croy's original story. David Butler directed the production for Fox Films.
